

65 MILLION DOLLAR INCOMES IN KENTUCKY

Total of 59,332 Kentuckians Pay Income Taxes This Year Totaling $7,595,284.

Washington, July 25. — Kentucky contributed $7,595,284 to the Federal Government in personal income taxes for the calendar year 1919 or six-tenths per cent of the total revenue from that source, which amounted to $1,269,630,104, it is shown by figures made public by David H. Blair, commissioner of Internal Revenue.

The percentage of Kentucky's total population filing personal income tax returns for the calendar year 1919 was 2.46 or lower than that of all but Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Mississippi, North and South Carolina and Tennessee.

Personal income tax returns were filed by 59,332 Kentuckians which was 1.12 per cent of the total number of such returns filed. The aggregate income reported in these returns amounted to $215,977,422, of 1.09 per cent of the total aggregate income reported by the entire country.

Notwithstanding the fact that the average net income per return filed in Kentucky was $3,640.15, or larger than the same figure for the other states, the per capita net income in the Bluegrass State was only $89.47, or lower than that of all except eight other states. These figures are taken to indicate that the average net income per capita in Kentucky is lower than that of at least thirty-eight of the forty-eight states.

The average net income per return for 1919 was $3,724.05, the average amount of tax $238.08, and the average tax rate 6.39 per cent.

There were filed sixty-five returns of net income of $1,000,000 and more; 189 of $500,000 to $1,000,000; 425 of from $300,000 to $500,000; 1,864 of $150,000 to $300,000; 2,983 of $100,000 to $150,000; 13,320 of $50,000 to $100,000; 37,477 of $25,000 to $50,000; 162,495 of $10,000 to $25,000; 438,851 of $5,000 to $10,000; 1,180,488 of $3,000 to $5,000; 1,569,741 of $2,000 to $3,000, and 1,924,872 of $1,000 to $2,000.

Misses Alice, Clara and Mary Ross, of Knoxville, Tenn., motored through to Maysville to spend their vacations here with their sister, Mrs. Nace Brady, of Sutton street.

RUGGLES CAMPMEETING OPENS ON THURSDAY

Annual Camping Season Will Begin Thursday at Old Ruggles—Everything Is Ready.

Ruggles campmeeting will begin next Thursday. Beginning Monday, the moving in time will be on in earnest. President John Brodt and Secretary W. S. Peters went out Monday to see that everything is in spick and span order. New beds complete were received last week for ten rooms in the hotel. These rooms will be very desirable when fixed up. Word from all the talent is that all will be on the job at the ringing of the bell. Great interest is manifested in the coming of Evangelist Birney. Hear what Bishop Anderson says of him: "The Rev. George Hugh Birney, D. D., has had conspicuous success in large churches as a Gospel preacher and minister. He is clear and cogent in his thinking, with a strong grasp on world movements, and a clear conception of the relation of the Gospel to world betterment. He is a manly man, who appeals strongly to men and seems to me to be admirably adapted to the work of evangelism. I commend him without reservation and expect large results from his ministry in this new field."

As Area Evangelist Dr. Birney is meeting with the "conspicuous success" predicted of him by Bishop Anderson, Ruggles campers should get in on the first service Thursday evening to truly enjoy the evangelist one should follow his line of thinking and preaching from the beginning.

BABY CLINIC.

Mothers should not forget to bring their babies to the Health Office periodically to weigh and measure them and obtain information as to care and feeding, etc. The nurse is in attendance between 2 and 4 p. m. on Thursdays and will keep complete records in order that the development of the children may be watched. The growth and development of a little child is one of the most interesting phenomena in the world. Loss of weight or failure to gain indicates the need of medical advice. It costs you nothing to know how your child is progressing, as compared with standards obtained by the examination of over 600,000 children during Children's Year.

Colored mothers are invited to bring their children between 2 and 4 p. m. on Fridays.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF COUNTY MEETING OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Official Report of the Sunday School Activities Gives Detailed Account of the Annual Convention.

(By J. H. RICHARDSON.)

It seems that no provision was made for an adequate report of the convention for the press, the matter being overlooked until it was too late. Perhaps they thought the regular writer of Sunday school notes could do the job even though absent from the convention. But it is not such an easy matter to do justice to such a meeting when not present. However, as many of the delegates have been kind enough to tell us of the many good things said and done at the convention, and also having had the privilege of reading over the secretary's notes we will venture a trial at it anyway.

In the first place we are told that those splendid people at Moransburg had made usual preparation to entertain the convention. Their "Little Breck" church was nicely decorated, and a most sumptuous dinner was served in the village school building which is admirably equipped for such an occasion. In spite of the fact that the fact that the convention was attended by the largest crowd of any such meeting in years, there being between three and four hundred present, after all had eaten there was still enough left over to feed a multitude. Those folks don't do things by halves; they are right there when it comes to entertaining a Sunday school convention.

The program was carried through with but few changes or variations. The talks, speeches and addresses were of the highest order. It was truly an inspirational convention. The greatness, the magnitude of the work before the Sunday schools and the churches seemed to grip every one who had any part in the discussions. Mr. W. J. Vaughn of the State Association field force was present and in his characteristic manner gave much help and inspiration to the convention. He paid many compliments to the work being done in Mason county. Through the zeal and energy put forth by the county association officers and the hearty cooperation of the schools Mason county is becoming noted as one of the best Sunday school counties in the state. The secretary had reports from thirty-four of the forty-three schools — the best report ever given. All expenses have been met, the state apportionment overpaid and a nice balance in the treasury to begin the new year with.

There was the most representative crowd that has attended a county convention for years. Usually but a few schools nearest to the place of the convention attend. This time the delegates were from all over the county. Then there was more officers and teachers of schools present than ever attended a convention before, there being at least fifty. This is one of the very encouraging signs of progress. It shows these workers are anxious for better work.

The committee on nominations was of the opinion that the officers who are making the work a success should be left undisturbed, so they recommended their re-election. This met with the hearty approval of the convention. The committee on resolutions presented the following:

First — Resolved that during the coming year more stress be laid upon the development of the district work. That a good convention or rally be held in each district, and an effort be made to have a complete representation of all officers and teachers in the district present at the convention.

Second — Realizing that a fine beginning has been made in the Adult Department we recommend that increased effort be put on this department until every man and woman in our county is enrolled in some Bible class.

Third — We recommend that stress be laid upon Sabbath observance and that we as Sunday school workers not only teach it but by our own conduct set an example to our pupils and the general public.

Fourth — We recommend that each department of our County Association be urged to take at least one step forward during the coming year.

Fifth — We believe that as the Bible is our text book, pastors, superintendents, teachers, and pupils be urged to bring it to Sunday school with them and use it during the session.

Sixth — Resolved that thanks be extended to the good people of the Lawrence creek for the use of their church and for the bonafide dinner provided; to our state worker, Mr. Vaughn for his inspiring messages; and to all who have in any way helped to make the convention a success.

Seventh — Believing that our county work is in a better condition today than for many years we recommend

THREE ARE TAKEN IN GAME WARDEN'S RAID

One Fined For Being in North Fork; Two Juveniles Are Given Lecture and Released on Probation.

District Game Warden William C. Grierson, of Covington, dropped into Mason county unexpectedly Saturday and made a little inspection of some of the streams of the county to see whether or not the state fish and game law was being violated.

On the North Fork he arrested Charles Davis and William Davis, both colored, and Harland Gifford, white, for selling. All three were brought before local courts Monday morning. Charles Davis was taken before Squire Fred W. Bauer and fined $15 and costs. The other two were under age and were taken before Juvenile Judge Purnell. Both of the lads were given some fatherly advice by the judge and the game law was thoroughly explained to them. They were then released on suspended sentences and given a chance.

It is understood that Mr. Grierson has some information on several other parts of the county where the laws are being violated and other arrests are expected.

NEW MEAT SHOP AND GROCERY STORE.

Mr. William Weis Saturday completed a deal whereby he becomes the owner of the building in Second street near Court, now occupied by the Power stove store. Mr. Weis and his associates purpose to thoroughly overhaul this building and make it into an up-to-date combined meat market and grocery store. It is understood that the gentlemen in this deal propose to make this one of the most attractive stores in the city.

MASON HEALTH DEPARTMENT MAKING GOOD SHOWING.

The new County Health Nurse and Health Officer are pulling the Mason County Health Department out of the rut. The weekly report of all organized health departments in Kentucky, issued from the State Board of Health's office for the past week shows the local department with a score of 379 surrendering the last place in the list which we have held for several months to the Fulton county department.

FORTY-POUND CATFISH CAUGHT.

A fisherman by the name of Striblin caught a forty pound catfish Sunday in the Ohio river near the mouth of Three Mile Creek. The fish attracted considerable attention at the Lovel grocery Monday morning.

INDIANS, COWBOYS AND SETTLERS, COMING TO MAYSVILLE.

No one can afford to miss "Lahoma" at the Pastime Thursday. It is one of the highest and most thrilling western pictures that has been made in years. Indians, cowboys and settlers galore.

In Squire Fred W. Bauer's court Travis Garrett, of the West End, was fined $20 and costs on a charge of using language calculated to provoke a breach of the peace.

Mr. and Mrs. William Tolle and son, Francis Douglas, of Dayton, Ohio, passed through Maysville Monday en route to Ruggles campgrounds for the camping season.

Monday was Squire Fred Dresel's regular monthly civil court day and much business was transacted during the day.

That the thanks of this convention be extended to our faithful officers through whose untiring efforts this has been accomplished.

MARY L. WILSON,
ELEANOR WALLACE,
JAMES S. DAWSON,
Committee.

FAMOUS ORATOR TO DELIVER LECTURE AT LOCAL CHAUTAUQUA

Colonel P. E. Hoip, world-famed Orator, Will Be one of the Headline Attractions at Maysville Chautauqua This Season.

Col. Hoip, who speaks at the local chautauqua this year, inherited from his father the qualities necessary for the orator, a magnificent voice, a logical mind, a retentive memory, and a fine imagination, personal magnetism and optimism. These qualities were trained and perfected by the greatest specialists in American schools of oratory in his day. Shoemaker of Philadelphia, and Mark Bailey, of Yale College. For forty years, Col. Hoip has been constantly on the lecture platform. He has lectured in every American city of 10,000 people and thousands of smaller cities. Twenty-five years ago he was placed by the lecture bureau of Chicago and Minneapolis on lecture courses and chautauquas all over our broad land.

He has appeared at the smaller chautauquas on the same day with William Jennings Bryan, Dr. Frank Gunsaulus, Col. George W. Bain, Dr. A. A. Whitlitt, Lou Benuechamp and other whigs of the platform. He has talked often and to more people than any other American speaker. At the Panama Exposition at San Francisco in 1915, he was the principal speaker, talked seven times a day, seven days in a week, for ten months; to an audience of one-thousand people, breaking the world's long distance record for public speech.

When we went to war with Germany, he was lecturing in New York City. He quit at once, tendered his service to the Council of Defense and made more patriotic talks during the war than any other American. On the Victory Liberty Loan Drive, he was given a war train of thirteen captured by American soldiers in Germany, accompanied by twenty returned wounded soldiers, to advance the patriotism of the people of Indiana. Five cities a day for thirty days were visited and at each city, Col. Hoip talked from a flat car surrounded by weapons of war to crowds running from 2000 to 5000 people. Since the war, he has lectured for the United Americans. He has given his justly celebrated talk, "The American Way," fourteen times each week throughout a year. He has given it in 200 of the public schools of Chicago in the past year. He is the only man who has lectured with and for Elmerford, the world's greatest travelogue lecturer. Here are a few of the

BLOODHOUNDS AND POSSE TRAIL BUSHWHACKERS

Two Killed in Breathitt County Saturday Night in Raid on Bootleggers.

Lexington, Ky., July 25. — Poses with bloodhounds are on the trail today of moonshiners, who, Saturday night, ambushed a party of revenue men who were trying to find a still in the mountains of the Buckhorn section of Breathitt county, and fatally wounded two men. The dogs are following a warm trail.

Green Watkins, a Breathitt county deputy sheriff, was instantly killed, and Henry Noble, also of the posse, died before he could receive attention here. Shade Allen, who received nine gunshot wounds, is in a Lexington hospital and is not expected to recover. The other members of the posse, which was organized Saturday afternoon, were Samuel Watkins, Federal prohibition agent, Andrew Allen, brother of Shade, and Bill Lovings. News of the posse evidently had preceded it, for in several places the raiders found evidence that still had been removed recently and hurriedly. Near the Knott county line the revenue men started down a patch along a branch of Buckhorn creek, and as they entered a clump of pines about 9 o'clock, fire was opened upon them. Green Watkins, Noble and Shade Allen fell in the first volley.

"JIMMY" KELLUM TO BE BURIED NEXT MONDAY.

Mrs. George McLaughlin, of Sixth street, has received a telegram from the War Department that her son, James B. Kellum, the first Maysville man to be killed in the late World War, will be buried at Arlington cemetery at 2:30 o'clock next Monday afternoon. Mrs. McLaughlin will not make the trip to Washington to attend the burial.

STRIBLIN WAIVES; BOY GOES TO THE JUVENILE COURT

Lee Striblin Waives an Examination and Is Held For Cutting Charge To September Grand Jury Under $300 Bail.

Attorney James M. Collins was appointed by City Judge Whitaker Monday afternoon to defend Lee Striblin and his twelve-year-old son, Robert, who are charged with cutting and wounding with intent to kill. Mr. Collins held a conference with the elder Striblin and announced that he would waive an examination and go direct to the grand jury with the case. Mr. Collins also asked that the charge against the boy be removed to Juvenile Court which was done.

Striblin was offered bail in the sum of $300 which he was unable to give up until a late hour Monday afternoon although he was making an effort to find surety.

Robert Striblin, the twelve-year-old boy, who did the actual cutting in the case, was allowed to go home with his mother upon his mother's promise to Judge Whitaker that she would bring the boy before Juvenile Judge H. P. Purnell Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock to be arraigned.

POLLEY—FORMAN.

Mr. Clarence W. Forman, aged 29, of Cincinnati, and Miss Martha Polley, aged 26, of this county, were married at the County Clerk's office Monday afternoon by County Judge H. P. Purnell.

NAMED GUARD AT DISTILLERY.

Mr. Clarence Nower has received a commission as distillery guard at the Rogers distillery and began his duties at that plant Sunday night.

In City Court Monday afternoon Clarence Holmes, colored, was fined five dollars and costs on a charge of breach of the peace.

Mrs. Mary Bedford and Miss Lillian Chancellor, of Lexington, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Armstrong, of Forest avenue.

Miss Phoebe Huron, of West Third street, returned home Sunday evening from Covington, after spending her vacation with relatives and friends.

Rev. F. W. Harrop, of Covington, is here to preach the funeral of Mrs. Ben T. Smith.

Chautauqua season tickets can be had at the Farm Bureau building.

BUILT BETTER!

Lasts Longer
Costs Less to Operate

Is this a time to be letting up on the efficiency of farming? A thousand times No! That would be yielding to a penny-wise, pound-foolish policy.

Yield is the big thing today. A certain yield from the land must first pay the fixed expenses—such an investment in land, interest, taxes, or rent, depreciation on equipment, etc.—to break even. For profit, the yield must go higher.

There comes the mission of good, reliable, time-saving machinery—the kind that's built better, lasts longer, and costs less to operate. That's the kind of

OUR POLICY:

And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

PROTECTIVE TARIFF TAX REVISION.

There is no such thing as a paanacea for all our commercial troubles. The after-effects of a four-year's war cannot be removed over night. Nor will the Protective Tariff now under consideration in Congress be an immediate cure-all for our economic ills, when it becomes a law. We cannot force the wheels of economic law. The preparation and adoption of the Tariff Act is a difficult and painstaking task, more so now than ever before. There are numerous problems confronting us today that never came into the discussion of Tariff legislation before. The economic fabric of the country has been torn and weakened in many places through eight years of Free-Trade disaster. It needs reinforcing badly. That is the task that Congress is in the act of performing. It means practically a remaking of our economic structure, and cannot be hurriedly accomplished. It requires deliberate and close study.

The adoption of a proper Tariff policy before any other economic measures are taken up, is a wise move. Many look upon the Tariff question in too light a manner, when in fact it affects the individual more than any other issue. It is true that Congress should also take up the internal revenue problem, but it should not give this preference over the adoption of a permanent Tariff. With five million people out of employment, the present taxes are bound to be a hardship. We hear less criticism of the tax system when prosperity is with us. Lack of employment is what makes the payment of taxes hard.

Let us put this enormous army of unemployed to work before taking up the tax question. These people were forced into unemployment through eight years of Free-Trade rule, which made it possible for foreign countries to ship the output of their cheap labor into America and thereby deprive the American workman of a market for his products. We can only remove the trouble by getting rid of the cause, Free-Trade, and adopting in its place an American system of Tariff, that of Protection, which will guard the American workman against the lopsided competition of cheap foreign labor. We cannot bring the country back to a sound business basis until we restore confidence to the producer. He wants to know where he stands. He wants to be assured that when he sets the machinery of his factory in motion he will be able to sell his output at a fair price in his own country. That is the one market in which he expects a square deal, and he is entitled to it. The Protection of that market by our government is just as important to the commercial prosperity of our country as our coast defense is to the nation. We would not think of tearing down our coast defense. It is just as essential that we preserve our commercial armament.

CAN YOU KEEP UP WITH THE HEALTH HINTERS?

We Americans are terribly bothered with health literature these latter days: health hints that our forefathers never heard of, or dreamed of and without which they lived with fair robustness and died, many of them, at a ripe old age.

Fifteen or twenty years ago there was a great craze in favor of our chewing our end vigorously. Next thing, we were warned multitudinously that we must beware of drinking cups and roller towels. (We editors well remember the print shop towel that would stick there when you threw it up against the wall.) Pretty soon the health hints got us to deep breathing. More recently, we have been hearing that "vitamines" in our food was the whole thing, and as yeast contains the critters in great numbers, a great yeast manufacturer is getting enormously rich out of the hosts of folks who eat cakes of yeast each and every day.

And now, lastly, comes the book-writing doc who says—and proves it like the rest—that the only thing to be really careful about is sleep.

We are distinctly on the side of this doctor—if there's anything we like it is sleep, at 8 a. m.

Incidentally, our 1921 health hinter furnishes us with a new word to supplant "vitamines." Which same new word is "dendrites." They are the things in our brains that keep us awake: when they relax, we sleep.

But no joking. There is a lot in this sleep theory. Slumber cures many an ill, softens many a mental shock, and we all know it is the enemy of fatigue.

SURELY THIS CANNOT BE TRUE.

The "Daily News Record," a New York newspaper that abhors sensationalism and is given much to printing accurate news facts, states that it has information on the best sort of authority that the new tax law soon to be enacted at Washington will (1) "Eliminate the present excess profits tax; (2) Reduce the higher surtax rate on incomes; (3) Increase the lower surtax rate on incomes."

Let's see.

No. 1.—"Eliminate the present excess profits tax." That is the tax which is paid by big corporations and institutions if they make great profits.

No. 2.—"Reduce the higher surtax rate on incomes." The higher surtaxes are now paid by the few thousand rich who have huge incomes.

No. 3.—"Increase the lower surtax rates on incomes." The lower surtax is paid by the hundreds of thousands of people who have comparatively small incomes—the average merchant, the fairly prosperous farmer, the small manufacturer, the manager fellows, doctors, lawyers and a few newspapermen. All hard workers, earning by hard toil every cent of their incomes.

We hope the "Daily News Record" is not well informed. Not that increased surtaxes would affect this editor much, but because we don't think such a revision of the present high taxes is fair or right.

We simply cannot believe that congress would adopt such a policy. Or that wise political statesmen would agree to it.

If girls in past ages received proposals they said, "Ask mama;" now they say, "All right, old bean."—Mrs. Kendal, British suffrage worker.

KENTUCKY COUNTIES PLAN FALL SALES OF YOUNG PULLETS

Purebred Pullets Will Be Sold in Counties Which Are Specializing on Certain Breeds.

Lexington, Ky. — More than 8,000 pullets from four varieties of poultry will be sold at auction in 16 county pullet sales planned for this fall as a part of the poultry standardization campaign being conducted by the College of Agriculture, according to an announcement made by J. H. Martin, in charge of the college poultry work. One thousand Barred Plymouth Rocks, 3,900 White Plymouth Rocks, 900 Rhode Island Reds and 2,600 White Wyandottes will be offered for sale, according to the announcement. The schedule of sales together with the number of birds which will be sold at each one is as follows:

White Plymouth Rocks — Fulton county, October 29, 600; Mcracken county, November 16; 1,500; Calloway county, October 22, 500; Warren county, October 29, 899, and Barren county, September 30, 500.

Rhode Island Reds — Marion county, November 5, 200; Boyd county, November 5, 200, Mason county, November 26, 200, and Powell county, October 22, 100.

White Wyandottes — Henderson county, October 22, 1,900; Hopkins county, October 22, 200; Todd county, November 19, 200.

Barred Plymouth Rocks — Washington county, November 5, 350; Owen county, October 29, 200, and Taylor county, November 12, 250.

Christian county which is standardizing its poultry with Barred Plymouth Rocks, Rhode Island Reds and Wyandottes will hold its sale November 19 at which time pullets from all three breeds will be sold. Two hundred Barred Plymouth Rocks, 200 Rhode Island Reds, and 200 White Wyandottes will be sold at this sale.

The pullet sales are a part of the general plan worked out by those conducting the standardization campaign to make it possible for all farmers in the various counties to obtain hatchling eggs from the breed being used to standardize the county flocks. Banks and other persons cooperating in the movement furnished money for the purchase of hatchling eggs, the farmers who received them agreeing to return one pullet for each setting of eggs. The money from the pullet sales will be returned to the banks who bought the eggs for distribution. Pullets brought in by the farmers will be culled and graded by specialists from the poultry department of the College of Agriculture and sold either as "firsts" or as "seconds". The sales offer an opportunity for farmers to obtain purebred pullets at reasonable prices and are therefore expected to aid in increasing the number of purebred hens on Kentucky farms, Mr. Martin said. The sales will be held in the various county seats.

DANGER! NOT SO MUCH AT NORTH POLE.

San Francisco. — Heroic glamour and dreadful risks of the frozen Arctic have gone the way of the pictured ranges and romantic adventures of the old storied wild west, according to Vilhjalmur Stefansson, Canadian Arctic explorer, who passed through here recently.

" Eskimos of the white country live off the land, so why shouldn't the white stranger?" he asks. "There is no reason," Stefansson said, "why two or three men should not go to the north pole, or even to the pole of inaccessibility, which is in the center of the icy area of 400 miles farther from navigable water than the north pole, and live there for one or several years, depending for food, fuel and shelter solely on the meat, fat and skins of animals found there."

The explorer has under consideration plans for a new expedition to the north, he said here.

WORST DROUTH CONDITIONS IN MANY YEARS REPORTED.

Louisville. — Relief from the heat and douth in the state have failed to materialize. Some sections of Kentucky reported the worst conditions on record. Practically all crops have been injured severely and some are threatened with destruction. The water shortage of Jefferson county continues to grow. Farmers report the condition the worst in twenty years.

YOUTH GIVEN A HIDE; PICKS BENEFACTOR'S POCKET.

Louisville. — It was an ungrateful youth who robbed J. Temple Robinson, president of Robinson Bros., wholesale hardware dealers of his gold watch. Mr. Robinson, returning from the County Club, had picked up on the road a boy who claimed to be a caddy, riding him to the city in his automobile. After the youth gave the "lift" had alighted from the car Mr. Robinson discovered his pocket had been picked and his gold watch was missing.

HOW TO TAKE FUNDS FOR YOUR TRIP

There are many ways of taking funds for your vacation trip and several of them are very satisfactory, but the best way that this bank knows of is the A. B. A. Check way.

These travelers' checks are the official travel credits of the American Bankers Association, an organization of over 20,000 of the strongest and largest and most progressive banks of the United States and Canada. A. B. A. Checks have been established to furnish travelers with the best possible accommodations in respect to travel funds; and they are so well known, not only throughout America, but in all civilized parts of the world, that they are accepted as though they were international money. We issue these checks and will be glad to supply you before you leave.

New York Letter

by
Lucy Jeanne Price

New York. — New York city public school teachers donated to the tax payers last year just $146,360 worth of work. It's quite a neat little sum to have been contributed to the public good by any one group of wage-earners, isn't it? It made possible the school athletic competitions which otherwise would have been dropped for lack of anyone to manage them.

The great excitement at Ellis Island these days is the little dramas which result when a first cabin alien is refused the privilege of landing because of the new immigration laws. When one thinks and talks and writes laws about immigrants, he always seems to have in mind the people who pack themselves and their families into the steerage, and no one else. But here comes a diplomat and a millionaire business man and all sorts of people accustomed to having reception committees and interviews to greet them on their landing — and lo, they can't land! Held up by the immigration laws! Among the travelers who were detained last week were a British business man over here on a business trip; Viscount Edmond Emmery, formerly an attaché of the French embassy at Washington; Mr. Albert Teneau, vice president of the French jewelry concern with a branch in this city, and his American bride; Arthur Zwolfer, son of a Quaker bank, over here to gather information and promote financial relations between this country and Roumania, and N. D. Jonovitch, formerly of the Serbian legation here. All of them ran up against the clause limiting the number of aliens permitted to enter each month to a certain percentage of their countrymen already in this country. And they certainly did create some ruction when the detention orders were realized!

Academic pride as well as material joy reigns in the circles of Vassar college and its alumnae over the announcement that the General Education Board has seen fit to contribute $500,000 toward the $3,000,000 salary endowment fund that the college is planning to raise. "Of course we are delighted with any $500,000 that comes to us," explained Edna Breeze, manager of the fund campaign, "but this $500,000 carries a special blessing with it. It doesn't mean just one half million dollars; in addition to that, there is the stamp of wealthy approval that comes with it. The funds of that board are used for educational projects that will be of serious value to the country; nothing is passed upon lightly by that group of people. When they give our endowment fund such a slice of their money, it is a great deal."

The General Education Board is the Rockefeller Foundation of Education, with headquarters here in New York. Dr. Wallace Butler is president and Dr. Abraham Flexner, vice president.

Senor Fernandez Ortega of Mexico City, who arrived in New York the other day en route to Spain, has an exceedingly lively cargo with him. His baggage consists in part — a great part — of 150 Mexican gamecocks, veterans of many featured battles in Mexico which will seek new fight in Spanish pits. Having — in the words of the senior — "cleaned up everything in Mexico that wears feathers," they are bound back to conquer the home of their ancestors.

The thirty leading members of the "All Star Idlers" displayed an unwonted energy for anyone claiming such a title when they prepared last week for their show. The "Idlers" are a group of real stars who have been without a show during these last few weeks — or months. They include such names as Ed Wynn, William Collier, Harry Fox, and James J. Corbett — many of our very most popular performers. Well, anyway, when they got ready to bill the town for their big performance, they decided—considering the lack of jobs on all of their parts — that the high cost of bill posting came under the head of exorbitant luxuries; so out they strode with paste and paper, and solemnly welded their brushes themselves all over the Broadway landscape.

For courage and sheer guts at budget-managing, Gustave Wohland of Brooklyn, deserves some kind of trace and conspicuous medal. Thirty dollars a week he makes as an employee of a dairy company. He has nine children, five of whom are still at home and dependent upon him; and the other day he and his wife went into the surgeon's court and adopted another one.

TILSON HITS DEMOCRATS FOR PARTISAN ATTACK

Declares They Kept Away From Facts In Minority Report On Republican Tariff Bill.

Washington, D. C. — Excoriation of the Democratic minority of the Ways and Means committee of the House for making a bitterly partisan attack in their report against the Republican tariff bill without regard to facts is made by Representative John Q. Tilson, of Connecticut, one of the hardest working and ablest members of that committee. He says:

"At election time, when my opponent enters the race and puts forward his reasons why I should not be re-elected, I always feel greatly encouraged if I find upon examination that most of what is said by him is inaccurate or untrue, and that the rest of it would be immaterial if true. The views of the majority of the minority of the Ways and Means Committee very forcibly remind me in this regard of campaign days. The majority members of the Ways and Means Committee have worked long and faithfully and under many difficulties in producing a tariff bill. Now come our Democratic colleagues on the committee with one notable exception, and proceed to attack our work. It was expected and entirely proper that they should do so.

"The Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee are all men of ability and have doubtless done their best in presenting their views. Party exigencies make it necessary that the strongest possible attack be made upon this bill. Partisan bias, warped still more by political self-interest, has been given full sway. It is therefore most encouraging to read what the minority have to say, for in fact they have said substantially nothing. Almost everything in their remarkable report may be properly characterized as untrue, inaccurate, misleading, or entirely aside from the point. What is lacking in substance, however, is made up in the beauty and appropriateness of the rhetorical imagery. As an example, the figure of the surgeon, in fabled scalp in hand, going forth to reap the harvest seeded last autumn, and all of this in preference to the 'natural process,' is indeed very touching.

"What is said concerning sinister influence supposed to be exerted by 'business' or 'business men' is hardly worthy of serious notice. Of course, no member signing the minority views believes for a moment that any sinister or undue influences were exerted either big of little business or business men or had any affect whatever upon the preparation of his bill, but they had to say something. No one who signed these views would say, and attempt to keep a straight face, that he believes any member of the majority of the committee to be any less honest or patriotic than himself; but something had to be said. It is an old story, that of a man approaching the house of a neighbor and finding himself confronted by a dog which gave every outward manifestation of a disposition to do violence. The owner of the beast assured the approaching neighbor that the dog would not bite, but still the neighbor hesitated. Finally the owner rebuked the neighbor for his lack of faith, saying: 'Haven't I told you and don't you know that the dog will not bite?' Not wishing to be discourteous, the neighbor replied: 'Yes; you know he won't bite and I know he won't bite, but the damned dog he don't know he won't bite.'

"So with the accusations of our Democratic colleagues. We know that they are not true and that they are not true, but there may be some on in the position of the blank dog. As this great country is made up of all sorts of people, there may be somewhere some one sufficiently ignorant and glib to believe what they say.

"It speaks volumes for the merits of this bill that it was found necessary to indulge in such insincere accusations of dishonesty against honorable colleagues in order to be able to say anything derogatory to the bill.

"One of the number of crimes charged in the minority views is that the committee failed to prepare a parallel-column edition of the bill, embodying all the tariff laws enacted for many years past. Surely this was a deep, dark, distasteful crime and should not be overlooked. To be sure, the members of the committee were concerned with the preparation of a bill to meet present and future needs rather than with making comparisons with laws that have ceased to exist or that have outlived their usefulness, but still they should not be forgiven. When I was a much younger man than I am now I went for the first time to New York on a visit, and among other places I visited the Eden Musee, on Twenty-third street. As I entered I beheld, among other wonderful things, a number of freaks on exhibition. Among them was a figure of a man properly dressed, with collar, necktie, and all in proper position, but the head of the figure was so adjusted that it could look backward. The insistence of our minority colleagues that we turn back into the past and prepare tables so that they may come and dwell there reminds me of this wonderful work in wax. In fact, the disposition of our Democratic friends to look backward instead of forward causes me to wonder if it is not true that the original prototype of the now lonely Miss Democracy was not Lot's wife, of Sodom and Gomorrah fame.

"What the committee had in mind in the preparation of this bill was not what rate were carried in the Payne bill or the Underwood bill or any other bill, but what rate are needed to preserve and cause the continuance of the industries of this country. The question to be decided by the committee was not whether the rates were higher or lower than what had been found adequate in the past, but what is necessary for the present and immediate future. One of the important questions to be decided was: Shall the wages of our workmen and our standard of living be brought down to those of foreign workmen? Another was whether certain industries are to continue in this country to furnish employment for labor and capital or whether they are to be transferred to foreign soil.

"To a subcommittee of which I was chairman and the gentleman from Colorado (Mr. Timberlake) and the gentleman from New York (Mr. Mott) were my associates was assigned the duty of making a special study and preparing a tentative draft of the metal schedule. "We found that whatever may have been the facts in regard to other schedules, the rates of duty as carried in the metal schedule of the act of 1897 were revised downward in the act of 1909. A careful comparison of the two acts will show a general and substantial reduction. The revision of 1909 was well and carefully done, so that comparatively few mistakes were discovered in the administration of this portion of the act for over four years during which the law was in effect. In fact, during all the bitterness of partisan conflict which raged about this law during its four years of life very little adverse criticism, except of the most general kind, was ever made against the metal schedule. "The revision of this schedule in 1913 could not by any stretch of the imagination be called a scientific revision. A few paragraphs were transferred to the free list. In a much larger number of cases the carefully prepared specific rates were stricken out and either a blanket ad valorem rate or a series of more or less hazardous ad valorem rates substituted, while in the cases where ad valorem rates were applied in the act of 1909 the rates were quite generally reduced in 1913, many of them disastrously so, as subsequent events fully prove."

VACATION TIME BEGINS TO CUT S. S. ATTENDANCE

Vacation Season and Hot Weather Shows in Figures for Sunday School Attendance.

Sunday School Attendance Secretary Richardson's report follows:

NOTE:—The attendance secretary will be off on his annual vacation for the next two Sundays—attending Ruggles campmeeting. The attendance for these Sunday will be taken by the county secretary, Mrs. J. H. Wells, telephone 553-R. Please call her early in the afternoon, giving the name of school and attendance. Don't wait for her to call you—this would be a big job for one new to the work. May we not have a report from every school in the county right along now that we have had such a glorious convention.

As Many a Maysville Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are weak, Nature tells you about it. The urine is nature's index. Infrequent or too frequent passage. Other disorders suggest kidney ills. Doan's Kidney Pills are for disordered kidneys. Ask your neighbor. Maysville people testify to their worth.

Charles Kennan, retired farmer, 81 Wood street, Maysville, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills several different times within the last few years and never had them fail to do me good. My kidneys were in a mighty bad shape the first time I used them. The secretions I passed were bloody and burned terribly. My back kept me in misery during the time the attack lasted and I was feeling generally run down. I went to Wood & Son's Drug Store and got a couple boxes of them. This medicine reached my case at once and cured me up in good shape. I have always relied upon Doan's ever since. I use a few now and then to regulate my kidney and they never fail me."

Price 60 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the name that Mr. Kennan had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.
